

Higher Diploma in Social Service

1. What is this programme about?

SSI Higher Diploma in Social Service (HDSS) is a programme for new entrants and existing Social Service Professionals in the Social Service Sector who aspire to be Social Work Associates. This programme aims to equip learners with the skills and knowledge to be collaborative, client-centric, strategic and compassionate individuals who can play their roles effectively with clients and stakeholders. The programme covers a wide range of concepts which consists of human behaviour, family life cycle, psychology, sociology and culture.

In addition, it also offers learnings on writing and presentation skills, usage of online information and legal frameworks to help the vulnerable. Successful applicants would also get to attend a session of Academic Integrity Workshop and Social Service Field Experience to better prepare them for the programme and help them in their learning journey.

2. Why is this programme suitable for me?

The qualification under this programme is suitable for learners who are keen to embark on a new career in the social service sector or for existing social service professionals in support level functions who wish to further their career progression in the social service sector. This programme will promote the development and enhancement of horizontal skills necessary to perform the role of a Social Service Associates.

Successful completion of the programme will provide learners with the academic/qualification pathway to progress further in their journey to upskill themselves. HDSS provides an articulation pathway into the Bachelor in Social Work Degree Programme offered by Singapore University of Social Services (SUSS).

3. How will this programme help me with my further studies?

This programme provides learners with the qualification and academic pathway to progress further in their journey to upskill themselves. The programme provides the graduands with the opportunity of furthering their studies in Bachelor of Social Work programme offered by Singapore University of Social Sciences (SUSS). However, learners will still need to meet the minimum requirements for the Bachelor of Social Work programme to qualify. For more information, please refer to this link.

4. Are there significant differences in this new programme as compared to the WSQ Diploma in Social Service (DSS) which was previously offered by SSI?

HDSS is a non-WSQ programme, the duration has also reduced from 18 months to 16 months.

The career progression pathway for the new programme is the same as the WSQ DSS programme. The knowledge and skills covered in the new programme is equivalent to what was covered in the WSQ DSS, with further enhancements to ensure its relevance to developments in the social service sector.

5. I had previously completed some modules for the WSQ DSS, am I entitled for exemptions for my studies under the Higher Diploma in Social Service (HDSS)?

There will be no exemptions. Learners will have to undertake the entire programme, if they wish to further their studies.

6. Who are the trainers for the programme?

At SSI, our trainers are known as Adult Educators (AEs). SSI's AEs possess either a WSQ Advanced Certificate in Training and Assessment (ACTA) or WSQ Advanced Certificate in Learning and Performance (ACLP) certification and have years of working experience covering different client groups and community settings in the social service sector.

7. What are the eligibility criteria for SSG funding?
